BELOVED CHILD DIES SUDDENLY

Eleanora Craib, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Craib of Eldridge, and a bright little pupil of the Glen Ellen school, died very suddenly Wednesday, after an illness of three hours, and was buried here yesterday.

The death of the child was a great shock to the parents and friends of the deceased, for she had apparently been in good health, and shortly before complaining of illness had been to Glen Ellen, and was well and happy as usual. When seized with the fatal attack which caused her death from secondary asphyxiation a few hours later, the child seemed to suffer from a choking sensation in the throat, and despite the skill of physicians she passed away, with all the symptoms of strangulation.

Coroner Phillips was summoned and an autopsy was held by physicians at the Home. It was then ascertained that Eleanora had come to her death through the enlargement of the thymos gland, which in most children atrophies, but in her case had enlarged until it choked her up and killed her. The condition is a rare one, and the verdict of the Coroner's jury was rendered in accordance with the facts.

The little girl was a bright and winsome child, beloved by her parents, teachers and little friends, and many tears were shed as the tiny form was laid to rest here yesterday. The funeral cortege was from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Poppe of Glen Ellen, and thence to St. Francis' Church. Spring time's fairest blossoms covered the little casket and attested the love and sympathy of many mourners.

FARM CENTER MEETING HERE LAST NIGHT

Morris Levy, head of the Sonoma Farm Center, called the meeting at the High School to order last evening, and it proved to be a very interesting session. There were a number of speakers, and musical numbers were provided by Mr. Frank Knolle. The coming county fair was discussed, and also many important topics of interest to our farmers.

IMPROVEMENTS AT AGUA CALIENTE SPRINGS

Famous Springs Will Introduce New Features and Innovations for Its Guests the Coming Season.

Many fine improvements will be noted with the opening of Agua Caliente Springs for the season of 1920, and already a corps of workmen are busily engaged making improvements at the famous mineral baths, which have been enlarged and modernized. Two hot plunges have been added, and wonderful needle baths installed. The needle baths are especially recommended for nervous disorders, rheumatism, kidney and kindred troubles. A spacious solarium, where bathers may enjoy the luxury of a real sun bath, is also being constructed.

At the hotel, Mrs. Richards will provide a grill, where meals will be served at all hours, and motorists can get refreshments at any time, and be provided with music, dancing and entertainment. A noted chef, late of Techau Tavern, will take charge of the grill.

The hotel is to be run this year on both the European and American plan.

Mrs. Richards has interested San Francisco capitalists in her fine property, and nothing is to be left undone to make it the mecca of big crowds throughout the season.

HIGH SCHOOL SHOW DREW BIG CROWD

The High School students put on a clever show Friday night of last week. The sketches were heartily applauded, and revealed much dramatic talent among the young folks. There were musical numbers by the always-popular Girls' Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Emilie Poppe, and a grand finale by blackface comedians, entitled "There Aint No Ghoses", a debate.

The boys were made up fit to kill and delivered some rapid fire oratory on the hair raising question of spooks.

Union Hall was crowded to capacity and the athletic field fund received a goodly sum from the door receipts.

SALT LAKE WON

Over a thousand people saw the baseball game between the Salt Lake team and Mare Island boys last Sunday at Boyes Springs. Salt Lake won. A big truck laden with fans from Vallejo overturned between here and the Napa line, but fortunately no one was injured.

A number of the Salt Lake boys will attend the American Legion dance here this evening.

CLUB DOES HONOR TO JACK LONDON

The annual memorial for Jack London, which takes place each year in the community which he loved and immortalized, was celebrated Friday of last week under the auspices of the Glen Ellen Women's Improvement Club. Between fifty and sixty club members and their friends came together to do homage to the genius of the literary world, whose career so sadly ended at his untimely death some three years ago.

More appreciative with each succeeding year, Jack London's admirers continue to grow and attest their appreciation, and the memorial last week seemed nothing short of an inspiration for those who participated in the program at Mayflower Hall.

The meeting was formally opened by the President of the Glen Ellen club, Mrs. Sophie Weise, after which the following program was carried out:

Piano selection, "Gloaming," Mrs. C. E. Erickson; reading, eulogy, Mr. Bonbright; reading, "Jack London, by Himself," Miss Taplin; selected readings, Mrs. R. P. Hill; song, "Sunshine of Your Smile," Mrs. L. Pfaff; reading, "Russians Idolize Jack London," Mr. Bonbright; reading, "Jack London's Message to His Neighbors" (taken from "Valley of the Moon), Mrs. Merrit; song, "Sing Me to Sleep," Mrs. L. Pfaff; remarks on Jack London's life, Thomas Johnson.

A touching and beautiful tribute was paid Jack London by Mrs. Hill, his friend and neighbor, who, at the conclusion of the reading, asked that she might place the choicest flowers culled from her garden upon the desk as a testimonial to the regard in which she held the late author.

The red flowers were for love, said the speaker, the blue symbolized appreciation of his genius and the white recognition of his simplicity of manner and inate modesty. As she placed the flowers upon the desk, the audience was visibly affected by the beautiful tribute so gracefully and spontaneously expressed.

The paper on "Jack London's Message to His Neighbors," was by the gifted Glen Ellen clubwoman, Mrs. A. Rochambeau, and was presented by Mrs. Merritt, whose personaliy and charm of manner added to the reading. Mrs. Rochambeau wrote as follows:

JACK LONDON'S MESSAGE TO HIS NEIGHBORS

When an architect or builder wishes to construct a house, he first decides on a plan, selects the location, gathers the materials needed, assembles his workmen with their tools. The work begins, but only the master-builder knows what the finished product will be. As the work progresses, he continually studies his drawing; mentally he visions the finished house. He builds with this object continually uppermost in his mind.—From Valley of the Moon.

Jack London was a builder in the realm of thought. His workmen were the characters, the actors, in the drama, who struggled with the problems of existence, every-day-life tragedies. The tools he used were his pen and words, mighty hammers in the hands of a master-mind, who knew how to drive home truths, facts of life. The plot and theme of the story was his plan, and this he continually had in his mind, and worked towards that end which he, alone, mentally visioned before he began to write his story.

In the "Valley of the Moon," the theme, which runs like a golden thread from cover to cover, may be summed up in three words: "Use your head." It is certain that the author intended this to be his message to his neighbors, who lived and toiled in the valley he loved. Here, year after year, he came, then went away for a time, and on his return he saw the same tumbledown fences, mossgrown roofs, weather-beaten houses, badly in need of paint, overpastured fields, filled with scrub cattle that never could pay for feed and return the owner a profit. Men walked at the rate of six hundred and fifty miles a year, cultivating twenty acres of land, which brought only a poor return, because it was too much for one to handle, and done in an old-fashioned way, while five acres, by means of up-to-date methods and intensive cultivation, would have brought far better returns, and only necessitated walking two hundred miles. So much waste of time and energy! In another paragraph he tells of a woman who had packed water from the same spring thirty-one years. He figured out that she had walked during those years 3780 miles for water, and all for the lack of two hundred feet of water pipe. More waste of energy. These primitive details he looked upon with understanding sympathy, and still thought the county had the most glorious climate, beautiful scenery, and water running to waste, while the thirsty soil baked in the sun. Something was wrong. The people, as a rule, were not using their heads. He knew that the economic conditions were far from ideal, and yet, surely, the people might do much for themselves if they would use their heads.

This, then, is the great lesson he tried to teach; but most people learn very slowly, and only through many hardships. Like all educators, Jack London must, at times, have felt the ask of trying to help and enlighten the human family was too big, almost hopeless, and he, who had learned to feel the heart-throbs of the world at such times, must have felt weary and heartsick. Perhaps that was why he loved the song, "Sing me to sleep, let me forget the world and all".

When we have built the Library in honor and memory of our late friend and neighbor, we ought to have this much needed message in letters of gold, framed, and hung where all may see and read "Use your head".

The vocal numbers rendered were favorite songs of Mr. London.

Following the exercises, a generous donation to the London Memorial Library was given by a friend among the audience. There was hope expressed that after the dedication of the library, the annual memorial day might be scheduled for later in the year, and that it might become the occasion of a notable pilgrimage to Glen Ellen. The memorial was originally held on Jack London's birthday in February, when there is often unseasonable weather to interfere with many attending from a distance.

TRANSPORTS WINE AND IS ARRESTED

H. Uhrig of Vallejo Has Spill With Auto Laden With Vino, and is Arrested by Constable Murray.

H. Uhrig of Vallejo, driving from Occidental to Vallejo, so it is alleged, with a barrel of vino, probably wished he had not looked on the wine when it was red, for his car ran off the road near Vineburg, and he was caught redhanded by Constable Murray when he returned to salvage his cargo.

Uhrig abandoned the machine Sunday night, following the accident, but on Monday came back to the scene of the accident, whereupon he was arrested by Murray and turned over to the Federal authorities.

A few weeks ago Uhrig was nabbed by the constable for driving at an excess speed, and got off with a light fine. The serious charge of transporting liquor in violation of the Eighteenth Amendment now confronts him. He was taken to Santa Rosa to appear before Commissioner Fulwider.

IMPORTANT REALTY TRANSFER

The Sonoma Vista Land Co. has transferred its interests at Sonoma Vista, near Boyes Springs to W. E. McDonough, a San Francisco capitalist, who will improve and popularize this famous tract in Sonoma Valley. The transfer includes Riverside addition, Eaton Park subdivision and Creek front.

AMERICAN LEGION MASK BALL TONIGHT

Union Hall to be Scene of Brilliant Event—Jazz Music by Heinie Gentry Band Special Feature.

Tonight is promised to be the night of nights, when Union Hall will be thronged with gay masqueraders and spectators to participate in the gala event of the season, the American Legion's masquerade ball.

Many original and beautiful costumes have been planned, for which valuable prizes are to be awarded to the most original, best dressed and best sustained characters.

Large crowds from Napa, Petaluma, Santa Rosa and even Oakland are coming, owing to the fact that Heinie Gentry's Jazz Band of the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, is to furnish the music, which promises to be a rare treat to all dance lovers. There will also be entertainment between dances for the benefit of those who do not dance.

The committee in charge has left nothing undone to treat royally all those who attend. A buffet lunch will be provided at midnight by the "eats" committee.

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION IN AND AROUND SONOMA

Bids are being advertised for and rights of way secured through the Gamble and Perry properties for the new county highway from Lowell's corner, near the Napa county line, to Broadway, Sonoma.

Sonoma Valley is getting rapidly in line with its big road-building program. The state highway between Schellville and Santa Rosa is being surveyed. Forty thousand dollars was voted for this piece of work at a state bond election last July. The county highway contract for the Sonoma-Petaluma road has already been let by the supervisors.

The City of Sonoma votes on a $57,000 bond issue for paved streets and a new sewer April 26th.

CALIFORNIA GLOVE COMPANY OFFERS 7 PER CENT STOCK

The California Glove Company, with factory No. 5 situated here in Sonoma, and its main place of business at Napa, is offering its 7 per cent preferred stock at $100 a share. Many are taking advantage of this offer, for the solid character of the business and its steady growth is known to every one in this locality. The California Glove Company produces high-grade gloves, and immense orders pouring in necessitate a big expansion of the plant.

George H. Burr and Co. are handling the high-grade stock, and interested investors may communicate with them or get literature at the Sonoma factory, in the Masonic block.

POST LENTEN BENEFIT FOR ST. FRANCIS PARISH

Arrangements are being made for an entertainment and dance at Union Hall after Lent for the benefit of St. Francis Church. Saturday evening, April 10th, has been chosen as the date for the affair, when a splendid program by San Francisco and local talent will be presented. Dancing to jazz music will conclude the evening, which will be up to the high standard of entertainment offered last season at St. Francis entertainments.

Rev. J. F. Byrne has the promise of some clever artists to appear at the post-Lenten affair next month.

A FAREWELL SURPRISE PARTY

A jolly party of friends invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Campbell Thursday night, and gave them a farewell surprise. A most enjoyable evening was spent, and a fine spread, provided by the surprisers and augmented by hospitality of the guests of honor, added to the enjoyment.

Those present were: Misses Burchard, Cooper Arnot, Jensen, McConoche; Mesdames Burlingame and Campbell; Messrs. McElney, Burnett, Cooper, Coates, Stenquest and Campbell.

SONOMA HAS BUSY FURNITURE FACTORY

A. W. Adler is cutting 2500 feet of lumber daily in the manufacture of case goods. Orders are piling up fast for Sonoma's furniture factory. Adler is turning out 800 tables at the mill on one order alone.

MOVIE ACTORS FILM PLAY IN THIS CITY

Arriving just in the nick of time to film a city of unpaved streets, the Andrew J. Callaghan movie picture makers took advantage of Sonoma's present primitive aspect and decided to use our city for the setting of their production of the "Midlanders."

They had looked two months for a town which might be used to represent Rome, Iowa, and there were several features in Sonoma which commended themselves to the player folks. The streets, the plaza, the city hall and quaint buildings around the square will be admirably adapted for the requirements of the play, and Bert King, technical man for Mr. Callaghan, arrived here Wednesday and began setting the stage for the production. Yesterday a company of twenty-five moving picture people arrived here from Rio Vista, where water scenes of the play were filmed.

Sonoma is not to be known in the picture, and it will only be those "on the inside," or well acquainted with local familiar scenes who will recognize in the Rome, Iowa, of the story our own home town.

Mrs. Alma Koeoom, who recently sold her ranch, leaves this week for Santa Paula, where she has been called by the tragic death of her niece's husband, who was fatally burned in the explosion of a gas well. Mrs. Kocboom has rented apartments in the Dal Pogetto block, where she will locate upon her return to Sonoma.

BOND ELECTION DATE SET AS APRIL 26TH

Two Elections Next Month—Street Improvement Proposition to be Submitted After City Election.

Monday, April 26th, has been set as the date of Sonoma's bond election to authorize the expenditure of $57,000 for new concrete streets and extension to the sewer on East Napa street. At an adjourned meeting of the Board of City Trustees last Monday, a resolution of intention was introduced and unanimously adopted. The ordinance will follow, and after necessary publication, the proposition will be submitted to the voters.

On April 12th there will be held the regular city election. Trustees Breitenbach and Bulotti complete their terms of office, and Trustee Campbell resigns, so there will be three positions to be filled. City Treasurer Clewe's tenure of office also terminates. The present officials, with the exception of Mr. Campbell, will be candidates for re-election.

Miss Florence Murphy went to San Francisco last Sunday to attend the last symphony concert of the season, and enjoyed the Hertz program immensely.

Among the interested spectators at the Jack London memorial meeting at Glen Ellen recently were many leading business men of the vicinity. Steve Prout was among those who closed his shop and attended.

Mrs. Cynthia Goodman, one of the beloved pioneers of the Sonoma Valley, has been quite ill for several weeks past. Mrs. Goodman is past four-score years, but is as vivacious as of yore, and as spry as her octogenarian brother, genial Mont Akers, of Schellville.

LABOR LEADER SEES THE LIGHT

Some very good sentiment is leaking out and we also hope soaking in at the California Building Trades convention which has been in session at Bakersfield. P. H. McCarthy, long the head of the organization deplores the income tax, repudiates its utility, long thought to be a panacea by socialists, and concludes that concerns which have to figure and pay income taxes put the burden of increased bookkeeping and government exaction upon the public. McCarthy may be seeking to shift the blame of present high prices from the shoulders of labor unions, or it may be that P. H. has become so prosperous that the income tax is personally a bone of contention which elicits a growl without much trouble. McCarthy's line of talk was pretty much along his old-time lines, and seems to be the sort that keeps him in power.

A new light breaks, however, when we hear from the lips of H. S. McClusky, member of the State Strike Committee, that "labor has had too many strikes." The acknowledgment and realization of that is reassuring, for it throws a brighter aspect upon future conditions. If men of that sentiment will forcibly express themselves and educate the rank and file of labor to see the economic waste of strikes and their effect on conditions everywhere, strikes will be scrapped as futile instruments, and labor will gird itself with something less destructive to all concerned and far more effective in the amelioration of conditions.

McCluskey scores again when he gives voice to the idea that good citizenship should take precedence over any class, and that a separate party for labor in politics is not only unnecessary but un-American.

There are many high-type men in labor organizations who have been silenced by noisy extremists and radicals, but if the rank and file will insist on their taking the lead and giving voice to good healthy sentiment such as Mr. McCluskey seems to possess, it will do much to gain for labor the earnest consideration it deserves, and the co-operation which is the solution of many problems depending upon the united and harmonious spirit between employer and employee.

The strike is a cave man's weapon, and in our highly organized industrial world it does vastly more harm than good. Once labor recognizes this fact, and production can be kept nearer normal, we will not have to go through any unnecessary periods of economic distress and high prices.

OLD WORLD FROWNS ON WOMAN'S RIGHTS

Italy has abridged the rights of women to hold public office. No doubt Italy is constantly reminded of the necessity of raising soldiers and wants to keep its women at home to rear the future generations of heroes who will preserve the nation. The League of Nations, by preventing cruel war, would lessen the necessity of producing cannon fodder and heroes, and make it possible for nations now menaced to permit their women who are fitted for civic service to give their time and thought thereto. Women can be big and useful intellectual factors in a world of promised peace, but if war is to be continued down the ages, we must continue to safeguard the population, see that quantity is produced, with quality as second consideration, and comply with all the cruel requirements of militarism.

There is something to be said of women remaining in the home rather than dabbling in politics, even here in the United States, where we have always felt war to be less entangling than with the European nations. Less feminism in a nation means less theory and hysteria, signs which may indicate the speeding up of evolution, but which tend to make the transition period a very trying one, and make it susceptible of radicalism and every other ism on the horizon. We are charged with "sinister feminism" in this country, because our women are so active in politics. To refute this, however, we have but to refer to the world war and the splendid, virile young men sprung from a nation where the women have had much to say. Soldiers from homes where women vote and mothers talk citizenship with sons, compared very favorably with their rugged comrades from more conservative parentage, where fathers rule the roost and do all the thinking for their helpmates. In old nations not reinforced constantly by immigrants and new blood, women need all their strength to uphold the prestige of their sons in war, by giving them health, sinew and early training for the wars which for ages past have been probabilities and constantly menace.

Perhaps Italy, however, had other ideas of curbing its women from participating too much in public life. The Italian no doubt views with alarm the popularity of canned goods in America, the decadence of the soup pot, the preference for the apartment rather than the old-style home, and other evidences of makeshift arrangements whereby woman releases herself from time-honored tasks for the newer and more alluring pastime of mixing into politics. This, coupled with evidence of feminine hysteria in the belief that prohibition was to be a panacea, and that intimate habits of eating and drinking were quite proper subjects of present-day regulation in the United States, no doubt led Italy to sit down on women before they should begin to copy the regime of their sisters here in America.

The influence of the American women in public life is destined to be far-reaching, however, and though sometimes taken advantage of, crudely applied, misdirected and misunderstood, it is sure to strengthen our social fabric, not to vitiate it. If women grow away from the home, their influence vanishes or becomes on the par with men. As long as the bond is close, and women maintain their home ties, they will strive toward the betterment of all the environment wherein their homes are situated. Whether they do so directly or indirectly matters little. If the mothers of Italy can teach the lesson of honesty and sobriety to the children at their knees, instead of through indiscriminate legislation such as we are experimenting with, the advantages are obvious.

OUR NEW MARKET DIRECTOR

Meet G. B. Daniels, your new Market Director. Mr. Daniels is successor to Mr. Weinstock. He is an editor—for years proprietor of the Oakland Enquirer. We expect great things from Mr. Daniels, because of his training, and the fact that it has made him accustomed to keeping his ear to the ground. He must know that the public demands a market director who will direct things so that the cost of living will come down, instead of continuing upward, in this state.

He can do full justice to the producers, for standardization of products brings good prices from buyers who want the best and are able to pay. Those who want to economize or save should be given a choice, and some products put within their reach.

Mr. Daniels has seen the workings of the free market in his home city of Oakland, and he knows what it has done for people on that side of the bay.

ECONOMY CAMPAIGN—LET'S HAVE IT

One of the arguments used in advocating the candidacy of Governor Lowden for the presidency is that he saved Illinois hundreds of thousands of dollars annually by wiping out the more than one hundred and twenty-five state commissions and consolidating them into nine deparments. This is the plan we urged for California in the last elections. Like Illinois, we have one hundred and twenty-five commissions, each with a horde of tax-eating attaches, and we ought to get rid of most of them in the same manner. A few, like the Railroad Commission, should be retained, but the rest should be wiped out and their functions performed by department heads. Illinois found her commissions loaded to the guards with supernumeraries, and consolidations wiped the latter off the state payrolls by the hundreds. California should follow Illinois' example. We have the most expensive government of any state in the Union, made so in order that "deserving Johnsonites" might be provided with fat salaries. It is high time to start an economy campaign in this state.—Petaluma Argus.

"WHY NOT HOOVER as the Republican candidate for President?" Yes, why not? California delegates to the G. O. P. convention can do lots worse than to cast their preference for this favorite son of the Golden [illegible] has been pointed out. Mr. Hoover is a business man, and a wonder when it comes to organization. The country needs such a man, and Hoover has had international training and breadth of experience which is invaluable. If the California delegation wants to show its loyalty to the West and at the same time not be provincial in its attitude, it will vote for this man who did so much for his nation and the stricken people of the world in war time.

COMING COUNTY FAIR

County fairs are of educational and advertising value to any community. The educational value redounds to the local inhabitants, while the advertising value is of the most importance to the home-seeker or casual visitor. Both desire to know what a community has to offer them, and there is no better way than to show them with good exhibits of the county.

The Sonoma County Fair Association proposes to give one of the best expositions that energy and united effort can produce. The agricultural and horticultural display will be made by the farm centers, under the direction of Sheridan W. Baker, formerly president of the Farm Bureau. It is easy to see that the joint work of these centers assures the best from the county.

With the entry into the county of such men as Mr. Rossiter with his fine horses, Mr. Harrison with the shorthorn cattle, and Mr. O'Connor with his hogs, a new condition is produced in the stock line, and every one of these men has promised his support at the fair, and will exhiit. They will be an added attraction to others in the state to bring stock here, which has never before existed.

The fair was set for August 25th to the 29th by the secretary of the State Fair and Western Fair Association, which places it on the itinerary of the State Fair Circuit, thus making another attraction to outsiders to exhibit. All stock and other exhibitors can move direct from Santa Rosa to the State Fair at Sacramento.

The racing, auto races, airplanes, the poultry, the dogs and cats, a possible horse show every day, and many attractions in the way of concessions promise much for all classes.

Amusements will be provided for the young people.

LOUIS KUNDE ESCORTS WINE ACROSS CONTINENT

Louis Kunde, the well-known wine maker, has returned home from an Eastern trip, where he went to look after seven carloads of wine he shipped East for medicinal and sacramental purposes from his winery near Kenwood.

Mr. Kunde had a trying time getting his wine through, and it was only by the fact that he was following it along from point to point with all the necessary legal documents that he was successful at all. At every point where the wine stopped it was necessary for Mr. Kunde to produce his papers, identify himself and give a full account of himself and the wine, until it finally reached its destination.

At Brooklyn, where Mr. Kunde has a large depot and warehouse of his own, he was again met with the task of removing the wine from train to depot, but with all of his legal papers he was finally able to accomplish the task successfully.

On his arrival at Washington, Mr. Kunde immediately looked up his old friend, Congressman Lea, and was invited to a seat in the visitors' gallery in Congress, where he heard Mr. Lea address the august body. He was well received by the California Congressman and given considerable help in the delivery of his shipment of wine by advice from Mr. Lea.

THIS POOR NUTT PAID PRICE

A. W. Nutt of Vallejo, arrested some weeks ago by Constable Murray for driving an automobile around the Baccala corner while in an intoxicated condition, and who had been out on $500 bonds, had the offense reduced to driving the car in a reckless manner, and was fined $100 by Judge Small. Nutt had several witnesses who were willing to testify that he was not intoxicated at the time of the accident, so, on the advice of Attorney Ross Campbell for the people, the original charge against Nutt was reduced. He plead guilty, and the court imposed the fine.

Nutt did not have his auto license revoked, as reported, although a conviction on the original charge against him would have deprived him of it.

WERE GUESTS OF PETALUMA RELATIVES

On Sunday at her home in this city, Mrs. Mary Hannan of Keokuk street entertained all the members of her family, and a delightful day was spent, with one of the dinners for which Mrs. Hannan is famous, a feature of the event. Mr. and Mrs. Tony Cereghino and family came over from Sonoma, returning Monday, while Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Matthies, formerly Miss Verna Cereghino, were up from San Francisco for the day. This was the first time the members of the family have all been together since Christmas.—Petaluma Argus.

CARD PARTY ON BROADWAY

Mrs. Otto Wagner entertained the school teachers of town and a number of gentlemen at cards Wednesday night. Miss Edna Cooper won the lady's prize at "500," and Henry Watters was winner of the safety razor given as the gentleman's prize. Four tables participated.

READ! IMPORTANT!

Do you realize that the value of your insurable property, if acquired before 1916, has practically doubled? Do you know that the present cost of replacement, less a reasonable reduction for use, would be the basis of payment in the event of loss or damage? Have you increased your insurance proportionately? If not, you are liable to suffer a severe monetary loss. See me.

Harold Procter—Eminent Irish Tenor

HAROLD PROCTOR, TENOR

London papers have spoken of his voice as being "like a ribbon of gold" and "a tenor of golden supremacy." Certainly a treat is in store for those who hear him.

If Harold Proctor could not sing a note, his personality would capture the audience—but fortunately he can sing. A singer without a certain personality is a failure, no matter how good the voice. But a charming, well-trained voice, like Proctor's, plus his personality, makes a combination truly delightful.

Before coming to America, Proctor sang throughout the British Isles under Richter, Gaul and other famous composers and conductors. After coming to America, he traveled all over this country in companies headed by Kitty Gordon, Fritzie Scheff, Charlotte Greenwood and others. Lately he has headed his own companies.

While Proctor is an artist in various styles of music, and has sung in opera, oratorio, etc., it is as a singer of high class ballads that he perhaps excels. His programs are popular and well balanced and he has his audiences with him all the time.

His cheerful, robust, manly personality appeals to all, and his singing is truly artistic. His beautiful, clear voice, his careful enunciation, his vocal artistry, give him high rank among the younger tenors of the McCormick style. His every appearance is a source of delight.

The Proctor concert will be given for the benefit of the Sonoma Valley Union High School Orchestra at Sonoma Grammar School Auditorium, Monday evening, March 29th, 1920. Seats on sale at Simmons Drug Store Monday, March 22nd, at 9 a. m. All seats reserved, Adults, 50c and Children, 25c. Adv.

FAREWELL BANQUET TO DEPARTING MEMBER

Sonoma Parlor of Native Sons gave a farewell banquet Monday night last at Odd Fellows Hall to City Trustee Ernest Campbell,, an old and faithful member of the Order, who leaves the coming week for Arizona. There was a fine repast partaken of, and many compliments and tokens of esteem voiced by those present commending Mr. Campbell for the loyal service he had always rendered on committee and in other work connected with Sonoma's Parlor. He was wished godspeed and success in his new home in Phoenix.

PAINFUL ACCIDENTS TO EL VERANO RESIDENTS

Ambrose Lazaar, well-known painter of El Verano, cut his hand this week very severely while at work in his garden. He slipped and fell on a piece of glass, which tore open the palm of his hand, severing several arteries. Dr. Hays was summoned, and after stopping the flow of blood dressed the injury.

The physician was also called to Riverside drive this week to attend Mr. Nunes, who was struck by an axe which hit a clothes line and rebounded, cutting a deep gash in his head.

MOTHER CALLED TO S. F. ON ACCOUNT OF ACCIDENT

Mrs. Dora Stofen was summoned to San Francisco Wednesday on account of a serious accident suffered by her son, Captain Will Stofen, of the tug Sea Prince. While towing the coal barge Comanche, near Pier 39, the tow-line snapped, an end whipping back and breaking the captain's leg.

JOE LUCIO RELOCATES IN SONOMA

J. Lucio has bought back his shoe shop from J. Frankel, and old customers will be pleased to hear that Mr. Lucio is again doing business at the old stand. Joe thought he would buy a ranch at Centerville, where he formerly lived, but land values have aviated since Joe left there, and after looking all around and spending five months enjoying life in San Francisco, he decided there was no place like old Sonoma. He therefore returned and made a good offer to Mr. Frankel to buy back his business.

GAVE EXHIBITION AFTER WALKING TO BOYES

Annie Ramos, Petaluma's crack swimmer, headed a party of girl friends who on Sunday hiked across the hills to Boyes Springs. They made the long trip in excellent time, and enjoyed the ramble of sixteen miles or more. After they reached the springs, Miss Ramos gave an exhibition of swimming and diving before quite an audience, and did good work. She states that the water is somewhat warmer and calmer than in the Golden Gate.

FAREWELL EVENING FOR ESTEEMED COUPLE

A farewell evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Coleman, who are to leave for England shortly, was given at the M. E. Church last week The esteemed couple were deluged with good wishes, and a fine program, consisting of stereopticon views, songs by Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGill and appropriate remarks by Rev. Burchette, the pastor, made the occasion one long to be remembered. At the conclusion of the formal program a delicious repast was partaken of by the guests of honor and the circle of friends to whom Mr. Coleman and his good wife have endeared themselves since their residence in this community.

The Colemans are returning to their old home across the sea, where they have grown children who joyously await their coming, made possible by the termination of the war.

SONOMA BUSINESS FIRMS GROW

A permit has been granted G. H. Hotz by the city of Sonoma to build a concrete addition to his property on Broadway occupied by the Ford Agency. The new annex will be of reinforced concrete and will double the size of the present quarters of the Busby and Coates Garage. The extension will be at the rear of the building and will greatly facilitate the handling of business by the busy Ford representatives.

The Spain Street annex to the Sonoma Mission Creamery has already been started under the skilled direction of Contractor R. E. Murphy who has promised the owner A. Pinelli to complete the structure as rapidly as possible. The Mission Creamery's expansion is another sign of Sonoma Valley's substantial growth and the creamery has played no small part in the prosperity of local dairymen.

You will read it first in the Index-Tribune.

VINEBURG NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murphy, editors of Sonoma Valley's leading paper, the Index-Tribune, were visitors in this vicinity on Sunday last.

Mrs. Charles McDevitt of Sonoma, accompanied by her charming little daughter, Miss Elizabeth, were the guests of Mrs. Fred Batto and Miss Adele Andrieux on Tuesday.

Frank Groskopf, the well-known young native of Sonoma Valley, but now a resident of Vallejo, is enjoying a week's rest at the home of his parents, "Whispering Pines," and is busy exchanging greetings with his many friends in this vicinity.

Marshal James H. Albertson and Health Officer Jep Valente of Sonoma, two of the Bear Flag City's most prominent heavy-weights in social and political circles, visited this vicinity on Wednesday. Mr. Valente seems to be quite interested in the health conditions of the burg, but when Jim Small told him it was St. Patrick's Day, and that every one was "O K Patsey," he gave Jim a "smile," but it was a very "dry" one, nothing like the smile of a year ago. Mr. Albertson, or "Jim," looks as young and spry as when we first saw him, thirty-five years ago, seated on a Concord stage coach, in front of the Union Hotel, snapping his whip over his six fiery steeds and calling out, "All aboard for Santa Rosa."

Messrs. Fred Batto, Albert Groskopf and Frederick Batto, Jr., took Thursday morning's train for the metropolis, and combined business with pleasure, and returned the same evening. The trip resulted in 97 per cent business and 3 per cent pleasure.

Al Groskopf and George McGill are delegates to the Grand Parlor, N. S. G. W., which meets in San Diego in April.

The little five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhode of Vineburg fell into a ditch Thursday and broke her arm. Dr. Hays was called and attended the little sufferer.

PRINCIPALLY PERSONAL

Mrs. Dave Eraldi was called to San Francisco this week by the death of her uncle, C. De Vencenzi.

Mrs. Tony Marcucci of Schellville was a passenger on the auto bus for San Francisco last Wednesday.

Francis Pauli, a former Sonoma boy, of an old pioneer family, took out a license to wed in San Francisco last week.

Mrs. Toso and Mrs. Ferrari of San Francisco have been up on a visit to their mother, Mrs. M. Chelini, who is seriously sick at her home near town.

Jack Valente, who has a taxicab business in San Francisco, was in town this week visiting his friends and relatves.

Mesdames Dodge, Hays, Burlingame and Hunter attended the Reciprocity Day exercises at St. Helena Wednesday, and were finely entertained by the club women of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Martinson were presented with a little son last Sunday night. This makes three boys and a girl in the family of the well-known electrician.

The Chevalier place at El Verano has been sold to a buyer from Oroville. It consists of six acres highly improved and a commodious residence.

Mrs. Felice Rovai and daughter went to San Francisco last Wednesday to attend the wedding of a relative. After the ceremony at the church there was a fine wedding dinner at the bride's home, where fifty guests were entertained and toasted the happy young couple.

The generous employees of the Goldstein ranch gave $10 to the Pollini family. This amount will be added to the subscription list collected by A. Baccala.

The reception to President Lulu V. Emparan of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club was postponed owing to the illness of the popular executive. A brilliant affair had been planned complimentary to her.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hotz and little grandson left this week for a trip to Seattle. During their absence, the junior member of the firm will be aided by his wife, Mrs. Ralph Hotz being both competent and popular with patrons of the pioneer firm.

Mrs. Niemann, whose husband recently purchased the Star Soda Works, came to Sonoma this week to arrange for moving up from San Francisco with her two children. The Niemanns are already enthusiastic over the "Valley of the Moon."

Mrs. W. E. Hunt of 715 Ohio street, Vallejo, lost a gold watch in Mountain Cemetery recently, and as it was a keepsake from her late husband, she is hoping to get it back. A substantial reward is offered for the return of the watch.

John Duhring will leave Berkeley early this summer for a tour of Japan with the U. C. Glee Club. John is the talented pianist of the organization, which will educate the musical ear of the land of cherry blossoms to American jazz and harmony.

Jack Main has been acquitted of the charge of having liquor at his soft drink establishment at Verano. Two juries disagreed after two trials, so the District Attorney thought it useless to put the tax-payers to further expense to try and get a conviction.

C. Fiscus, who opened the Overseas barbershop here some months ago, and later took the examination for a Federal prohibition enforcement officer, has received an appointment and has gone to San Francisco to enter upon his duties. Mr. Fiscus' wife is a sister of Mrs. Hamil Wagnon.

Clifford Pinder of the United States Army has been visiting his father, Ben Pinder, at the Snyder ranch, for the past ten days. Mr. Pinder's son has been in the army for thirteen years, and was among the first of the Americans to arrive on French soil and one of the last to leave. From here he goes East to visit a brother.

Mrs. Lillian Flynn of San Francisco, who recently bought the four-acre place formerly owned by Mr. Mulock, has been spending a week here. The place is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William Butler, who came to California from Indianapolis, Ind., a few months ago. They are giving their attention to fruit and the raising of chickens, and are pleased with the Sonoma Valley.

A two-year-old steer belonging to A. Maffei, and in pasture on the Gericke ranch with a herd of cattle there, became entangled in a barbed wire fence, and in attemptiing to free itself was so badly cut that it died of its injuries. The unfortunate animal had been dead two weeks when found, and was still impaled on the fence.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Craig, formerly of the State Home at Eldridge, are now with the Western State Hospital at Fort Steilacoom, Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Craig took a prominent part in fraternal and social affairs in the valley, and will be missed by a large circle of friends both here and in the vicinity of Glen Ellen.

R. Q. Wickham, genial secretary at the State Home at Eldridge, was in town Wednesday. Mr. Wickham is looking forward with great interest to a trip East in May, when he expects to visit, stopping off at Chicago for the National Republican convention. He is greatly interested in the candidacy of former Governor Frank Lowden of Illinois, who is prominently mentioned for President of the United States. Mr. Wickham helped Lowden get his first school, and says he is a splendid man, with an enviable record in public life. In letters which have passed between the two, Lowden addresses Mr. Wickham as "My dear old friend."

LIBRARY BENEFIT ON ST. PATRICK'S NIGHT GREAT SUCCESS

The benefit "500" party given for the Sonoma Public Library on the evening of March 17th was a decided success and netted a neat sum toward the purchase of new books.

After the usual number of hands had been played, refreshments and music were the order of the evening. Through courtesy of the firms of H. F. Bates, James Mc Elney, G. H. Hotz and AL. Stein the committee put up a number of useful prizes which were hotly contested for by the card players and were won by Miss Burchard, Mrs. Simmons, Henry Weber, Jr., and W. L. Murphy.

Irish songs sweetly sung by Mrs. Hamil Wagnon were greatly enjoyed Dancing was indulged in following the serving of coffee and dainty sandwiches.

The Library Board returns thanks to all those who assisted in making the benefit a success and to the merchants who donated to the worthy cause.

PUTNAM'S AUTO SHOW WAS BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Carrying a Ton a Mile for less than a Cent

Freight rates have played a very small part in the rising cost of living.

Other causes—the waste of war, under-production, credit inflation—have added dollars to the cost of the necessities of life, while freight charges have added only cents.

The average charge for hauling a ton of freight a mile is less than a cent.

A suit of clothing that sold for $30 before the war was carried 2,265 miles by rail from Chicago to Los Angeles for 16½ cents.

Now the freight charge is 22 cents and the suit sells for $50.

The cost of the suit has increased 20 dollars.

The freight on it has increased only 5½ cents.

Other transportation charges enter into the cost of the finished article—carrying the wool to the mills and the cloth to the tailors—but these other charges amount to but a few cents more.

The $10 pair of shoes that used to sell for $5 goes from the New England factory to the Florida dealer for a freight charge of 5⅔ cents—only one cent more than the pre-war rate.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.
